FOREWORD

Braille Institute Library Services is committed to providing high quality services and bibliographical support. To serve our patrons better, we have prepared a series of subject bibliographies produced in large print.

This bibliography, “Books for the Armchair Traveler,” is a literary guide to 39 countries throughout the hemispheres. Abounding within its covers is the opportunity to tread the steps of Eskimos in Greenland, to roam the Provençal meadows in France, and to capture mystique on the Arabian Peninsula.

Information Resources Librarian Julie Uyeno was inspired to compose this eclectic bibliography for your reading pleasure.

Henry C. Chang, Ph.D.,
Director of Library Services

INTRODUCTION

If you have ever dreamed about visiting faraway lands, just sit in your armchair and travel the globe by listening to talking books listed in “Books for the Armchair Traveler.”

This bibliography offers cultural, historical, sightseeing or dining experiences in many countries throughout the world. As one library patron related to me, he will never be able to afford to visit the world but he can travel the globe right in his living room.

In Under the Tuscan Sun, Frances Mayes gives her account of the delightful people she has encountered in Italy and the delicious Italian food she has eaten. Ces Nooteboom describes his circuitous journey through Spain in Roads to Santiago. In Fodor’s 96 Ireland, the editor offers tips on dining, shopping, sightseeing, accommodations, and activities in Ireland.

The bibliography is arranged by country, and then by author, title, and book number. For your convenience, there is an Author Index, Title Index and Book Order Form listed at the end of the bibliography.

If you wish to order any of the books, please call a Reader Advisor at (800) 808-2555 or (323) 660-3880 or complete the Book Order Form and mail it to Braille Institute Library Services.

Enjoy globetrotting!

Miles Away: A Walk Across FranceRC 38191

By Miles Morland

In 1989 Miles Morland gave up his high-pressure job in the London office of a Wall Street firm--with no specific plans for the future. His wife, Guislaine, whom he had divorced and remarried, suggested that they walk across southern France.

Morland recounts their preparations for the trip, their blistering trek, the French history they learned, the side trips they made, and their delight in being together.

Paris A to ZRC 09255

By Robert S. Kane

A personal report on everything a tourist might want to know about the glamorous city. What to see, where to stay, eat, drink and buy. Equally appropriate for the budget-minded, and deluxe traveler

A Year in ProvenceRC 33617

By Peter Mayle

The Mayles often visited Provence and dreamed of spending a year under the Provencal sun. Their chance came when they fell in love with a 200-year-old farmhouse at the foot of the Luberon Mountains--a dwelling built of stone in the haphazard manner of houses that spread to accommodate a growing family. Beginning with lunch on New Year's Day, Mayle chronicles a year of rural life that was governed by the seasons, not the days. Bestseller.

By Eugene Fodor

Guide to Alaska, California, Nevada, Oregon, and Washington. Includes practical hints to make traveling easier and less costly. Tells where to stay, eat, shop; what to see; and what to do with the children. Essays introduce each new State.

Fodor's Great American Vacations for Travelers with Disabilities

RC 44697

This handbook for travelers with physical handicaps includes accessibility information in three categories--mobility, hearing, and vision--as well as names and addresses of specialized services and facilities. Destinations include major U.S. cities, numerous national parks, Pennsylvania Dutch country, and Walt Disney World.

Fodor's Old South

RC 12495

By Eugene Fodor

Handbook on America's Old South, including background information and places of interest in eleven states. Includes practical information on hotels, and restaurants and hints for handicapped travelers.

Fodor's Old West

RC 13516

By Eugene Fodor and Robert C. Fisher

A guide book on America's Old West containing historical and practical tourist information for each of the western states. Includes sections on trip planning, hotels and motels, dining, dude ranches, camping, Old West trails, backpacking, wagon trains, special interest trips, old railroad excursions, air safaris, and rodeos.

A Long Road Home Journeys through America's Present in Search of America's Past

RC 30388

By Geoffrey O'Gara

In the 1930s the Federal Writers' Project hired writers to travel and produce guides to their various states. In 1985 O'Gara retraced their routes and has recorded his findings about the country and what remains of the America of fifty years ago, as well as how it has changed over the years.

WORLD TRAVEL

Practical Nomad: How to Travel Around the World

RC 47573

By Edward Hasbrouck

A handbook for the independent, around-the-world traveler. Advises on key aspects of planning international journeys, including choosing destinations, arranging for visas and permits, personal finances, packing, local transportation, safety, and health. 1997.

Tracking the Serpent: Journeys to Four Continents

RC 47769

By Janine P. Vega

A poet briefly relates childhood and youthful trips as preludes to her lifelong enjoyment of exploring new territory geographically and psychically. At greater length she describes travels in England and Ireland, the Amazon jungle basin and the Andes mountains of Peru, and the Himalayas of Nepal. 1997.

The World, the World

RC 48464

By Norman Lewis

Memoirs of a British travel writer emphasizing places visited and people encountered. His peripatetic lifestyle and five-decade search for unspoiled locales include trips to a remote Guatemalan coffee farm, a Welsh island fort, Havana (where he meets Hemingway), and Goa.

Worldwalk

RC 30230

By Steven M. Newman

On April 1, 1983, Steven Newman set out from his home in Bethel, Ohio, on a four-year journey that would take him around the world. Newman's chronicle of his trip through twenty countries, tell not only of good times--the wonderful people he met who gave him food, shelter, and love, but also of the difficulties--such as three arrests, violent snow- storms, and attacks by bandits and wild animals. Bestseller.

YUGOSLAVIA

The Impossible Country: A Journey through the Last Days of Yugoslavia

RC 39577

By Brian Hall

First-hand account by an American journalist who traveled around Yugoslavia in the months leading the country after World War I and outlines its troubled history. He expresses the opinions of ordinary people, including Serbs, Croats, and Muslims, as well as the views of their leaders. 1994.
